Agricultural Areas in Forest

HEPBURN'S SUGGESTION MEETS WITH APPROVAL

IDAHO SENATOR PLACED FACTS BEFORE SECRETARY WILSON WITH HOPE OF RESULT.

(Special to The Herald.) Washington, April 18 .- It is the expectation of western senators and congressmen that areas of agricultural lands now embraced within forest reserves will ultimately be restored to the public domain. This expectation grows out of the fact that Secretary Wilson has ordered the forest service to make an examination and classification of the various western reserves, setting forth by maps and by description those areas, now reserved, which are purely or largely agricultural lands, as distinguished from purely timber This order was made at the suggestion of Senator Heyburn of Idaho, who urged Secretary Wilson to eliminate from the reserves of Idaho all lands not chiefly valuable for their timber. The secretary was not possessed of sufficient data to enable him at this time to eliminate agricultural lands in Idaho or other states, but in informing the senator that he had called for a classification of lands in all reserves, he stated: "It seems to me a fair proposition that
